What is the difference between industry group and occupational group?

An industry is a group of establishments, categorized according to the goods or services they provide. For purposes of this study, many of the industry sectors are grouped together to provide summary information. For instance, the industry sectors of Wholesale Trade, Retail Trade, Transportation and Warehousing, and Utilities are combined to form a summary industry group called Trade, Transportation & Utilities.

An occupational group is a group of workers, categorized according to the skills they have and what they do on the job. For example, Healthcare Practitioner and Technical Occupations is one occupational group that includes many different types of occupations such as Dentists, Optometrists, Therapists, Veterinarians, Diagnostic related Technologists and Technicians, and Medical Records and Health Information Technicians. These are just a few of the occupations you can find in this occupational group.

Each industry contains a variety of occupations, and many occupations may be found in every industry. Using Healthcare Services (part of the summary industry group of Education & Health Services) as an example, you may find the following occupations in a hospital: doctors, therapists, office managers, medical records clerks, housekeepers, nurses, food preparation workers, and maintenance workers.

THE PURPOSE OF A JOB VACANCY SURVEY is to identify the number and types of jobs available in specific industries and regions of the state. The results of the survey assist educational units, employment and training providers, and local workforce councils in responding to industry needs. The Job Vacancy Survey data provides a unique snapshot of the conditions in a given region and/or occupational labor market.

There were 2,249 job vacancies in Regional Labor Market Area 3 (Houma Region) during the 2nd quarter of 2005 resulting in a vacancy rate of 2.60 percent. This means that for every 100 jobs, approximately 2 1/2 jobs were vacant at the time of the survey. The largest number of job vacancies (536) was found in the occupational group of Transportation and Material Moving Occupations while the largest vacancy rate was in Legal Occupations at 15.66 percent.

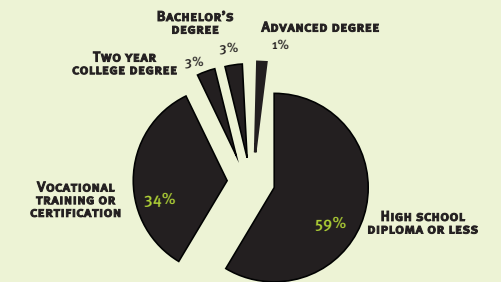

In the table below, Houma Regional Job Vacancies by Industry Group, Trade, Transportation and Utilities had the largest number of job vacancies

(521) while the highest vacancy rate was in Public Administration (5.9 percent). Overall, Houma area employers were seeking experienced workers. Only 24 percent had jobs that required no experience. When looking at the education required by the job vacancies reported, 41 percent required training past high school while 59 percent of the vacancies required a high school diploma or less. The largest percentage of job vacancies (30 percent) paid $5.15 to $7.00 per hour. The job vacancies that paid more than $10.00 an hour made up 34 percent of the reported vacancies.

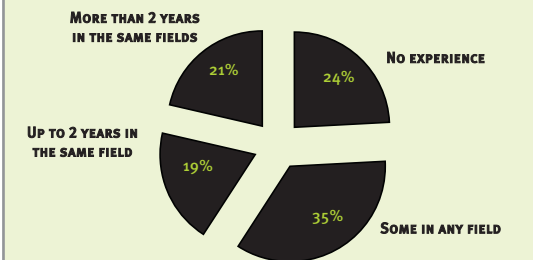

This survey included all ownership classifications, private ownership, federal, state, and local government. Of those responding with job vacancies, 84 percent were classified as private and 16 percent were classified as government statewide.

A list of difficulties that employers had in filling the positions can be found on the back page. The difficulty reported most often was being unable to find applicants with specific experience, training, skills and/or certifications.
