Google Career Certificate Program

Frequently Asked Questions

What is a scholarship?

A scholarship provides no-cost access to one of the following Grow with Google Career Certificates:

- Data Analytics
- IT Support
- Project Management
- User Experience (UX) Design
- Digital Marketing & E-commerce

Scholarship recipients are expected to complete the certificate within six months. It is critical that the recipient be able to make this time commitment to complete the training. Google is partnering with the National Association of State Workforce Agencies to distribute 30,000 scholarships among its member organizations.

How do I apply?

The application for the program can be found HERE. After applying you will be contacted by program administrators on next steps.

If I don't get a scholarship, can I still take the courses?

You can still take any of the courses associated with the Google Career Certificates, however you will be responsible for the monthly fee to access Coursera's online learning platform.

If I complete the training, am I guaranteed a job?

There is no guarantee of employment upon completion of the training. However, it is our business to help job seekers find new careers and we will work closely with scholarship recipients to match them with new job opportunities.

Upon completing the certificate, graduates get free access to career resources like coaching sessions, mock interviews and resume building tools including access to Big Interview. They will also have the opportunity to connect with over 150 employers in the Google Career Certificates employer consortium.

Do I need IT experience to take the training?

No experience is necessary. Neither is a college degree.

How much time does it take to complete a certificate course?

Recipients must commit to completing the training within six months. This often takes between five to ten hours a week of study. Extensions may be granted for accessibility purposes; please let your program administrator know if you require more time.

Is the training available in other languages?

All Google Career Certificates are available in English, and the IT Support Certificate is also available in Arabic, French, Portuguese (European), Italian, Portuguese (Brazilian), Vietnamese, German, Russian, and Spanish.
